Hudson's new problem solver

SARAH Wong has joined global HR firm Hudson as client solutions manager for Australia and New Zealand, responsible for developing and implementing recruitment outsourcing solutions. Ms Wong was based in Britain before joining Hudson and has worked in HR consulting for 12 years.

Qualified successes

MORE than half of all Australians aged between 15 and 64 have post-school qualifications, according to the Australian Bureau of Statistics, compared with 39 per cent in 1994. In May 2004 more than 350,000 people were enrolled in study leading to a qualification; 58 per cent were female.

Talk the talk

VOICE and presentation coach Annette Marks is running a half-day "Voice Power" workshop that will teach techniques to help people achieve a more confident, dynamic and persuasive voice. The workshop will be held in Prahran on Monday, February 7. Visit voicedynamics.com.au or phone 0438 718 918 for more information.

A wealth of information

EXPRESS Information, the business information service of the State Library of Victoria, continues to expand its research programs for the public, many of which are useful for jobseekers. A two-hour training session on "Finding company information - resources and techniques" is scheduled for Wednesday, March 16. The session costs $99, bookings essential. More information: phone 03 8664 7003.

Workplace relations briefings

WHEN the new Senate takes over on July 1 a backlog of workplace relations laws currently in draft legislation are expected to be passed. The Minister for Employment and Workplace Relations, Kevin Andrews, will outline the Government's agenda at a CEDA briefing on Friday, February 25.
